FYI - Janice Bivens is now the Enforcement Officer that is assigned to this site. She, rather than myself, will now be your EPA contact for Cedar Chemical.

Mr. Werner:

During an inter-office meeting it was mentioned you are the EPA contact for Cedar Chemical, a bankrupt herbicide plant, located in West Helena, Arkansas. Is that correct?

If so, we are trying to determine whether or not a PRP Search for Cedar has been conducted by you or anyone else at EPA. Could you let me know what work has been done regarding this facility?

Thanks,

Ms. Almand:

This is in reply to your email sent to Robert Werner (Cost Recovery), who forwarded the email on to me. I am the Enforcement Officer now assigned to the Site. As you probably already know, Gary Moore is the On Scene Coordinator assigned to Cedar Chemical, and Jim Turner is the Superfund Attorney.

Cost Recovery has initiated PRP search activities, and we are currently reviewing the EPA files and some State of Arkansas Superfund documents that are on microfilm. I am working in an alternative work location today and will be on leave tomorrow (back in the office on Monday, September 22, 2003.) If you will email me your telephone number, I will call you either later today or on Monday (9/22) so that we can discuss what information we have, to date. Also, if you have additional information and/or files available for review in Little Rock, we can discuss that, as well.

Thank you, and I look forward to talking to you soon.
